

Accuworx acquires CTI group, expands Gulf Coast services

NEWS PROVIDED BY

Accuworx Inc

Dec 21, 2017, 14:32 ET

HOUSTON, Dec. 21, 2017 /PRNewswire/ - Accuworx (<http://accuworx.com>), a leading environmental services organization known for taking on the toughest jobs, today announced it has acquired Texas-based CTI Group as part of its plan to expand services across the US. The acquisition enables Accuworx to deliver its diversified suite of services in cities across Texas including Midland, Eagle Ford, Houston, Baytown, and Corpus Christi. The company plans to triple its workforce in Texas in 2018.

Accuworx provides a comprehensive suite of environmental services including emergency response, soil and groundwater remediation, hazardous waste management, and industrial services. Its clients include Enterprise Products, Union Pacific Railroad, Phillips 66, National Oilwell Varco, and the Environmental Protection Agency. Accuworx offers clients a single destination for a broad range of services to increase project efficiency and accountability, while delivering economic benefits. Accuworx teams are highly skilled in emergency response, long-term remediation, and site reconstruction using sophisticated technologies and chemistry to go beyond initial clean up.

Included in the acquisition of CTI Group are its subsidiaries: CTI Oil Field Services, CTI Environmental Services, Box Tight (Waste Disposal), Clean Tank, CTI Industrial Services, CTI Oil Spill Services, and Go Safety. Clients of CTI Group can expect to benefit from the growing remediation, waste treatment, industrial cleaning, and emergency response programs now offered under the Accuworx umbrella. CTI Group's founders Cara and Cayce Causey will remain part of the new Accuworx team as President and VP Special Projects, respectively. Joseph Hale Company, Houston, provided transaction advisory services to the Causey family.

About Accuworx

Accuworx is an award-winning provider of environmental and industrial services for oil and gas, construction, aviation, industrial, marine, railway, and government clients. With a reputation for taking on the toughest jobs, Accuworx employees are highly skilled across a diverse suite of services in emergency response, site remediation, and reconstruction for land and marine clients. The highly responsive team provides services across Canada and the United States.

accuworx.com

SOURCE Accuworx Inc